How do we play blind golf?

Blind Golf is played in three sight categories. Each player has a coach/guide who is the player's eyes on the course. Blind golf is truly a team sport. The coach/guide prepares the player by helping with the yardage, aligning the player, and finding the ball. The blind golfer must make the stroke.

The categories are accepted and recognized by the International Blind Golf Association (IBGA) and American Blind Golf.

Totally Blind Division

B-1 No light perception or light perception which is not functional, central or peripheral, with or without light projection.

Vision Impaired Division

B-2 From the ability to recognize the shape of a hand up to visual acuity of 20/600.

B-3 From the visual acuity above 20/600 up to visual acuity of less than 20/200.

American Blind Golf (ABG) is a national organization that promotes golf for blind and vision impaired persons. American Blind Golf provides opportunities for blind and vision-impaired persons to play the game of golf. The ABG recognizes the unique skills that blind and vision-impaired golfers possess and hopes to inspire, motivate and serve the community using these skills.

American Blind Golf (ABG) has selected the San Antonio Lighthouse for the Blind (SALB) to benefit from this year's tournament. The SALB was chosen because of their mission to touch the lives of the blind and severely visually impaired by providing the opportunity to live high quality, independent lives. They accomplish this through employment in their manufacturing plant and military base stores and rehabilitation programs. These opportunities allow people to live productive lives with dignity... turning dis-ABILITY into ABILITY.

The San Antonio Lighthouse is the community icon for training, educating and enabling the blind and visually impaired, in addition to being a leader in manufacturing and military retail sales. These products and sales support all branches of the military with U.S. made products.
